w/ Ava Toton

ABOUT AVALANCHE TONES AND AVA TOTON

Ava Toton is a 17 year old guitarist, composer, studio producer, and the founder of Avalanche Tones, which she officially launched on June 24, 2026. Having spent years tracking, mixing, and recording original heavy music, both solo and with her metalcore band, Cataclysmic, Ava built her foundation directly in the recording studio. Avalanche Tones was driven by her love for both music and computer programming, alongside a mission to build streamlined recording tools that make life easier for guitarists, songwriters, and audio engineers.

Following the success of her debut guitar plugin, Chainsaw Suite, Ava expanded the Avalanche Tones lineup on August 27, 2026, with the launch of Noise Suite. Built specifically for making crazy, chaotic noises in metalcore, djent, and thall, Noise Suite is a modular effects plugin packed with 18 experimental modules, including pitch shifters, frequency shifters, ring mods, tape stop, freeze, glitch delay, and a self oscillating analog delay. Artists can stack up to 10 modules, drag to reorder their signal chain, and map every parameter to MIDI or DAW automation for complete control.

The plugin is available for $39.99 USD, with a 7 day free trial option so artists can test it out in their own sessions before purchasing.

Avalanche Tones operates as a continuous ecosystem where Ava Toton’s music and coding grow side by side, with every new track she writes serving as a real world testing ground for her upcoming software.
